Registering Your Product

Registering your device enables access to WD services such as news about your product, tips, and updates. Registration is quick and easy. Go to register.wdc.com and follow the instructions as prompted.

Format and Configuration

WD ShareSpace is preformatted for maximum reliability as a RAID 5 volume (for four-drive systems) or for maximum capacity as a single large, spanned volume (for two-drive systems). In RAID 5, one quarter of the capacity is used to store parity information needed to restore data in the event of a drive failure. In a spanned volume, the capacity is equal to the total of all drives in the volume. To access the the maximum capacity using full four drives of this device, the RAID configuration must be reset to either RAID 0 or Span. For more information on how to set up RAID, see the full user manual on the software CD for more information on how to manage RAID on the network storage system.

Step 1: Connect WD ShareSpace to the Network

1. Connect one end of the Ethernet cable into the Ethernet port located on the back of the unit.
2. Connect the other end of the Ethernet cable directly into a router or network switch port.
3. Connect the end of the adapter into the DC power supply socket located on the back of the unit.
4. Plug the AC adapter into an electrical outlet. The unit starts to power up as soon as power is applied. When power-up is complete, the LED on the power button displays a steady green light.

Important: Wait for the WD ShareSpace to finish powering up (approximately three minutes) before configuring the device. During this time, do not press the power button.

Power Button

The power button turns the device on or off. To turn on the device, press the power button and hold down until the LED flashes once, then release. The LED remains off (up to 30 seconds) as the device powers up. Holding the button down for four seconds powers off the device.

Step 2: Access WD ShareSpace on the Network

Follow the steps below to configure your network storage system and map a network drive in Windows 2000/XP/Vista using WD Discovery™. Skip to page 5 for Macintosh Leopard instructions or page 6 for Macintosh Tiger instructions.

Note: The WD Discovery application on the included CD should be installed on every PC in the local area network (LAN) from which you intend to access your WD ShareSpace.

Windows 2000/XP/Vista

1. Turn on your computer and wait for the operating system to load.
2. Insert the software CD into the CD or DVD ROM drive.
Note: If AutoPlay is disabled on your computer, you must install the utilities manually. Click Start>Computer (Windows Vista) or My Computer, and then double-click Setup.exe in the root directory of the CD.
3. Windows Vista: Click Run setup.exe, and then click Allow.
4. Click Accept in the Terms of Agreement screen.
5. If you have connected the device properly as shown in the Connect screen, click Next.
6. The Application Installer screen displays a list of options including software, documentation, and a registration link. Click WD Discovery Tool.

7. Click Map Network Drive in the Things To Do list.

8. In the authentication screen, enter your User Name and Password. The default for both is "admin."

9. When a message appears asking whether you want to map the drive automatically, click Yes.

- All share folders available on the device will be mapped as network drives automatically. Available drive letters are assigned backwards from Z. When mapping completes, the share folders appear as network drives in the WD Discovery screen.

- Click Start>Computer (Windows Vista) or My Computer (Windows 2000/XP). The network drives appear. You can now drag and drop files into the network drive folders using My Computer or Windows Explorer. See the complete user manual on the CD for all other basic and advanced device management functions.

Macintosh Leopard

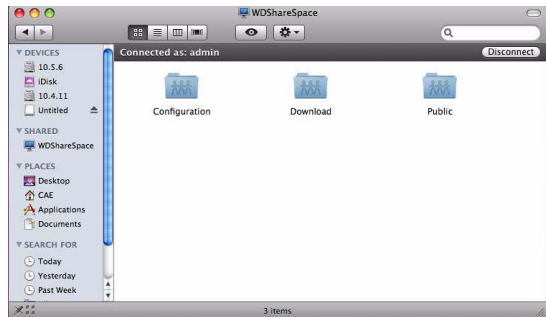

- Turn on your computer and wait for the operating system to load.
- Open Finder and on the menu bar, click Go > Connect to Server.

- Click Browse, and then double-click WD ShareSpace.
- If the connection fails, click Connect As on the WDSHareSpace screen that appears.
- On the login screen, type "admin" in both the Name and Password fields, and make sure Remember this password in my keychain is selected. Click Connect.

The Public, Download, and Configuration shares display.

Note: Configuration is a read-only share containing only a Help file and the login page.

- Double-click the Public share to display the subfolders: Shared Music, Shared Pictures, and Shared Videos.

- For instructions on creating an alias to make the shared drive icon permanent on the desktop, go to support.wdc.com and search the knowledge base for answer ID 2541.
- You can now drag and drop files into the shared folders using Finder. See the complete user manual on the software CD for all other basic and advanced device management functions.

Macintosh Tiger

- Turn on your computer and wait for the operating system to load.
- On the menu bar, click Go > Connect to Server.

- Click Browse and double-click the WD ShareSpace.
- On the Connect to Server screen, click Connect.

- Type "admin" in both the Name and Password fields and select Remember this password in my keychain. Click OK.

- Double-click the WD ShareSpace to display the Public, Download, and Configuration shares.
- Double-click the Public share to display the subfolders: Shared Music, Shared Pictures, and Shared Videos.

- For instructions on creating an alias to make the shared drive icon permanent on the desktop, go to support.wdc.com and search the knowledge base for answer ID 2541.
- You can now drag and drop files into the shared folders using Finder. See the complete user manual on the software CD for all other basic and advanced device management functions.

Regulatory Compliance

FCC Class B Information

This device has been tested and found to comply with the limits of a Class B digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This unit generates, uses, and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio or television reception. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. Any changes or modifications not expressly approved by WDC could void the user's authority to operate this equipment.

The provided Ethernet cable must be used between the unit and network connection to comply with FCC Part 15 Class B and EN-55022 Class B.

Warranty Information

Obtaining Service

WD values your business and always attempts to provide you the very best of service. If this Product requires maintenance, either contact the dealer from whom you originally purchased the Product or visit our product support Web site at support.wdc.com for information on how to obtain service or a Return Material Authorization (RMA). If it is determined that the Product may be defective, you will be given an RMA number and instructions for Product return. An unauthorized return (i.e., one for which an RMA number has not been issued) will be returned to you at your expense. Authorized returns must be shipped in an approved shipping container, prepaid and insured, to the address provided on your return paperwork. Your original box and packaging materials should be kept for storing or shipping your WD product. To conclusively establish the period of warranty, check the warranty expiration (serial number required) via support.wdc.com. WD shall have no liability for lost data regardless of the cause, recovery of lost data, or data contained in any Product placed in its possession.

Limited Warranty

WD warrants that the Product, in the course of its normal use, will be free from defects in material and workmanship for a period of three (3) years, unless otherwise required by law, and will conform to WD's specification therefor. This limited warranty period shall commence on the purchase date appearing on your purchase receipt. WD shall have no liability for any Product returned if WD determines that the Product was stolen from WD or that the asserted defect a) is not present, b) cannot reasonably be rectified because of damage occurring before WD receives the Product, or c) is attributable to misuse, improper installation, alteration (including removing or obliterating labels and opening or removing external enclosures, including the mounting frame, unless the product is on the list of limited user-serviceable products and the specific alteration is within the scope of the applicable instructions, as found at support.wdc.com), accident or mishandling while in the possession of someone other than WD. Subject to the limitations specified above, your sole and exclusive warranty shall be, during the period of warranty specified above and at WD's option, the repair or replacement of the Product. The foregoing warranty of WD shall extend to repaired or replaced Products for the balance of the applicable period of the original warranty or ninety (90) days from the date of shipment of a repaired or replaced Product, whichever is longer.

The foregoing limited warranty is WD's sole warranty and is applicable only to products sold as new. The remedies provided herein are in lieu of a) any and all other remedies and warranties, whether expressed, implied or statutory, including but not limited to, any implied warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, and b) any and all obligations and liabilities of WD for damages including, but not limited to accidental, consequential, or special damages, or any financial loss, lost profits or expenses, or lost data arising out of or in connection with the purchase, use, or performance of the Product, even if WD has been advised of the possibility of such damages. In the United States, some states do not allow exclusion or limitations of incidental or consequential damages, so the limitations above may not apply to you. This warranty gives you specific legal rights, and you may also have other rights which vary from state to state.
